

Name: 0810906201160 pages | File size: 31.Mb

Download PDF

Read Online

Suzanne Slesin, Daniel Rosensztroch
*DOC | *audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub*

[PDF] Everyday Things(tm): Glass

Everyday Things(tm): Glass

Suzanne Slesin, Daniel Rosensztroch : Everyday Things(tm): Glass before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Everyday Things(tm): Glass:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. InformativeBy tobynoNever knew there was so much to learn about glass. This book makes it easy. Informative and interesting. Great book8 of 9 people found the following review helpful. A unique gift for people who enjoy coffee-table artBy Midwest Book ReviewEveryday Things: Glass is a beauteous celebration of its title substance and all the countless decorative and practical things that can be wrought with it - including cruets, canisters, inkwells, lanterns, pitchers, and paperweights. Gorgeous, full-color photographs fill every page with an artist's eye for elegance, while the prose text offers intensely researched, enlightening commentary about the specific history of countless glass objects of art and everyday use. Suzanne Slesin (Homestyle magazine editor-in-chief), Daniel Rosensztroch (Paris-based author), and Stafford Cliff (London-based author), and Marie-Pierre Morel (Paris-based, professional photographer) draw upon their many years of expertise to effectively collaborate with Everyday Things: Glass resulting in a visual compendium that takes commonplace things and turns them into elements of majesty Everyday Things: Glass is enthusiastically recommended as a unique and unusual gift for people who enjoy coffee-table art and photography books.

From cruets and canisters, to inkwells and lanterns, to pitchers and paperweights, Everyday Things: Glass, by lifestyle experts Suzanne Slesin, Daniel Rozensztroch, and Stafford Cliff, shows readers how a discriminating eye can uncover a wide assortment of practical and decorative finds at flea markets and antique shops. The fourth volume in the acclaimed Everyday Things series, Everyday Things: Glass features a world of beautiful glass objects from the last 150 years, showing how collectible gems from the past can be modern and stylish treasures today. Casual glass enthusiasts and dedicated collectors will take delight in the range of interesting objects featured in the over 180 luminous color photographs. Everyday Things: Glass features hundreds of magnificent pieces, capturing the ethereal qualities of vintage glass with its transparent hues and jewel-like facets, its press mold patterns and etchings, and its magical ability to reflect light.

About the Author Suzanne Slesin is editor-in-chief of Homestyle magazine in New York and co-author of the well-known Style series, including Japanese Style, Caribbean Style, and New York Style, and the Everyday Things(tm) series, including Wire, Garden Tools, and Kitchen Ceramics. Daniel Rozensztroch, the Paris-based co-author of the Everyday Things(tm) series, is creative director of Marie Claire Maison. Stafford Cliff, the London-based author of Abrams' The English Archive of Design and Decoration and The French Archive of Design and Decoration, is designer and co-author of the Everyday Things(tm) series. Marie-Pierre Morel's photographs often appear in Marie Claire Maison.