Falkland Islands Mails: The Kosmos Years 1880-1900, by The Rev. J.N.T. Howat. This study deals with the subject of the mail contracts between the Falkland Islands Government and the Kosmos Company of Hamburg to carry the overseas mail between the islands and the outside world. The author has chosen to present the activities by using extensive extracts from the original documents. In this way readers will get a fresh impression of the life, times and personalities of those involved. The heart of the book is considered the tables of the movements of the mail ships. 21 black white photos illustrate every major issue. Information, such as historical and geographical, are also included. An indispensable tool for future research in this field. 1988, 146 pages, hardcover, New.
