FIELD NOTES/2015 ~ For The Arrowhead Collector's Recorded Discoveries

F. Scott Crawford : FIELD NOTES/2015 ~ For The Arrowhead Collector's Recorded Discoveries before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised FIELD NOTES/2015 ~ For The Arrowhead Collector's Recorded Discoveries:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Would highly recommend to those who love to accurately documentBy JenThis is a great book, the spaces provided are large enough that people with no artistic inclination can actually trace their artifacts. It was a great gift, the recipient loved it!

This is a special book! Part of it is written with some ideas and hints for making records of your personal discoveries of artifacts in the field. Such as arrowheads, scrapers, knives, drills, dart points and other ancient stone tools or pieces of pottery and other accoutrements of ancient lifeways which you may find. Yet, most of this "FIELD NOTES/2015 ~ For The Arrowhead Collector's Recorded Discoveries" book has not yet been written. It waits for your input. For your field notes. For your sketches. For your written tales of explorations and discoveries which have not yet taken place. So, it is mostly your book. And the stories it captures are yours. Written to document your collection, for you, by you.

In that way, the most important part of this book waits for you. Take "FIELD NOTES/2015", sharp pencils or a pen and your camera along with you on your journeys of exploration. Write down the story of your finds. Make a sketch or two in the ages of your history book. Take some sharp, "in-situ" photographs while your heart beats to the tempo of your discoveries. Create the text of "FIELD NOTES/2015 ~ For The Arrowhead Collector's Recorded Discoveries" and it will always be your own book of knowledge. 96 pages. Look for "FIELD NOTES/2016" to continue the record of your discoveries.
